George D. Neal, Commander of Post, Reports Circumstances to Adjutant-General of Virginia in Hope of Locating Relatives.

Adjutant-General Sale has just re-ceived a letter, together with clippings from newspapers, from J. J. V. Elder, adjutant Joe Hooker Post, No. 21, Department of Ohio, Grand Army of Department of Ohlo, Grand Army of the time of his death was an inmate of the infirmary at Mt. Vernon, Ohlo.

Papers were found upon the person of the dead veteran indicating that uring the War Between the States he Fourth Virginia Regiment, Stonewall led the post to believe that Major Wainwright was a former Virginian, and General Sale was requested to give the story to the Richmond papers, in the hope that it might reach the eye of relatives or friends of the veteran.

ARMY VETERANS

ACT AS PALLBEARERS

It was an unusual scene, the burial of an ex-Confederate in their own cemetery by survivors of the Federal army, one hardly possible a few years ago. Major Wainwright had expressed a desire to be buried elsewhere than the infirmary burying grounds, and the frand Army of the Republic veterans, an hearing the story, decided that to fithe buried the story of the Parameters and we have a distinction least to be desired. REUNION BALL

Will Be Held at Grays' Armory on Night of June 3,

It was not definitely decided to hold It was not dennitely decided to hold a floral parade, but Captain John Lamb, chairman, said that it was probable that such a parade would be held to give color and animation to the general festivities. The parade would pass through the court of honor on Monument Avenue, and would be a Monument Avenue, and would be a great and beautiful feature of the re-union. Accord to tentative plans, every citizen who owns an automobile would be asked to lend his machine, and every wagon and carriage would be solicited for the occasion. The floral parade would not conflict with the grand parade of June 3, but would be a separate and distinct feature.

RICHMOND HOTTEST CITY IN THE UNITED STATES

Records for April Broken Twice This Month.

Summer Ousts Spring From Her Favorite Month and Makes Mockery of Sweet, Showery Days, Usually

Richmond again broke all her April records yesterday, and was again, the second time this month, the hottest city in the United States. The mercury, when it finally stopped its ascent, hung when it finally stopped its ascent, hung but 4 degrees below the century mark, and the squirrel that climbed the klosk in the Capitol Square to look at the thermometer, fainted on the spot. Such heat as was experienced yesterday in Richmond usually comes in July, but summer has ousted spring from her favorite month and made a mockery of the sweet, showery days that are usually credited to April alone.

The second day of record-breaking sufficed to bring out all who have been laggard in hauling forth their summer suits, and many was the man who
